ACTIVITIES

"Sooner or later in life comes a time when it is performance that counts — not promises, not possibilities, not potentialities — but performance. Sooner or later there comes a time when sitting and watching are not enough — when doing something for ourselves and doing something for others is essential. It is good to sit and listen, it is good to sit and watch, it is good to sit and learn. But the law of improvement is the law of practice, of participation, or performance."
